Art Unit: 2665

1. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.
2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 24-27 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 24, 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by KOBAYASHI in U.S. Patent No. 4,775,974.

Regarding claim 24, KOBAYASHI discloses a method for processing ingress data units in a link layer processor (21) of a multiprocessor control block (20) in a communication switch, comprising: receiving a first ingress data unit corresponding to a call; selecting a first selected intermediate processor of a plurality of intermediate processors (24-1-24-n) included in the multiprocessor control block; and forwarding the first ingress data unit to the first selected intermediate processor (see col. 3, lines 14-35, col. 4, lines 24-43).

Regarding claims 28 and 29, KOBAYASHI discloses the step of assigning a sequence number to the first ingress data unit, wherein the sequence number corresponds to the call, and the steps of: receiving a second ingress data unit corresponding to the call; assigning the sequence number corresponding to the call to the second ingress data unit; selecting a second selected intermediate processor of the plurality of intermediate processors; and forwarding the second ingress data unit to the second selected intermediate processor (see col. 4, lines 29-33, 39-42, col. 5, lines 34-39).

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 25-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over KOBAYASHI in U.S. Patent No. 4,775,974 in view of TZENG in U.S. Patent No. 6,438,135.

Regarding claim 25, KOBAYASHI differs from the claim, in that, it fails to disclose the selection of the first selected intermediate processor based on a prioritization scheme, which is well known in the art and commonly applied in communications field for access arbitration. TZENG, for example, from the similar field of endeavor, teaches the selection of queue processors based on a prioritization scheme (see col. 2, lines 42-65), which can be easily adopted by one of ordinary skill in the art into the method of KOBAYASHI to provide the method with access arbitration to further improve the system efficiency.

Art Unit: 2665

Regarding claims 26 and 27, KOBAYASHI differs from the claim, in that, it fails to disclose the prioritization scheme includes a round robin scheme and at least partially based on loading on each intermediate processor of the plurality of intermediate processors, which are also well known in the art and commonly applied in communications field for priority contention and resolution. TZENG, from the similar field of endeavor, also teaches the prioritization scheme includes a round robin scheme and at least partially based on loading on each intermediate processor of the plurality of intermediate processors (see col. 4, lines 49-57), which can be easily adopted by one of ordinary skill in the art into the method of KOBAYASHI to provide the method with priority contention and resolution to further improve the system efficiency.

8. Claims 1-23 are allowed.

9. Claims 30 and 31 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

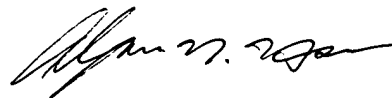

10. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Alpus H. Hsu whose telephone number is (571)272-3146. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (5:30-3:00) First Friday Off.
